Whig and Courier.

The London Times' View of the Great Eastern.

In the London Times of August 10, we find an article in relation to the Great Eastern from which we make the following extracts, by which it will be seen that no doubt is expressed as to the success of the leviathan in navigating the great deep.

To look at the gentle, though powerful monster now lying at Greenwich, few could guess the difficulties and hardships that threatened to stifle the young giant. But as one of the greatest births of time it must have its story of wrongs. Like many another noble craft, it was all but wrecked before it ever touched water, and might have been pointed at for a hundred years or more, like the first big ship of all, as the folly of an enthusiast. But this was not, and that is not the worst trial of the Great Eastern. Its worst foe is neither wind nor waves, neither rock nor mudbank, nor anything earth or sea can put in its way. Like many another upstart, it has to fight its way against favoritism; and it now starts against a subsidized competition with nothing to depend on but its own iron walls, its many roods of surface, and its power, greater than was ever accumulated before. As it lies quietly before you, held by a dozen of the strongest cables ever wrought by man, you see that which promises to compete successfully with a large fleet of fine vessels, befriended by Government, tenderly nourished by Legislatures, bribed, privileged, and secured from all opposition within their track. It has to run a race with a company and a legion of steamers. This is the unity in which centres all the hopes of the Eastern Steam Navigation Company. Notwithstanding the evident advantages of free competition,—notwithstanding the admitted failure of the Peninsular and Oriental to perform its undertakings, and the recommendation of a Parliamentary committee that a rival company should divide the traffic of the Overland Route, Parliament ended by giving the company in possession a monopoly of the Overland Route, and leaving the wide ocean to any new competitor. The Great Eastern—the idea of which sprang out of this struggle—represents the vast ocean as against the inland seas—the spirit of commercial freedom as against a subsidized monopoly; the enterprise of the Englishman against the wisdom of Parliaments, and that true dominion of the seas which survives war, but thrives most in peace.

It is only the other day thousands were flocking to see the Great Britain, then the largest ship afloat. There are now more than a dozen larger than she is. It is only a question of size, and that is a question of money. The undertaking had to do everything for itself, and those who have contributed to the work have paid heavily for their generous confidence in the powers of nature and of man. But the work survives, and will shortly be put to the proof. The quick passage will, then, as seems likely, be that round the Cape; the Overland will be the slow.

It may now be said that all these hopes have been fulfilled, and the thing is done. As to the ship itself, it has no immunity from perils. It may suffer what is suffered every day by some ship or other in our vast mercantile navy. But the calculation has been worked out, and there lies a vessel ready to start for Calcutta, land its passengers and cargo, take in others, and return home immediately, without taking in more coals, all within seventy days. Once released from these shores nothing can stop her, so long as her machinery does its work. This, of course, is the question; but never was steamship provided with so many alternatives. She will rush over the sea with a speed nearly equal to an ordinary railway train, and with a weight two hundred times greater. Should she come into collision with anything else afloat—should she, by chance, touch some little three-decker in the mid-sea, she will live to tell the tale, and she alone. She might send the flimsy craft to the bottom in the night, cutting her in two, or sailing over her, without even disturbing the sleep of her passengers. It might be presumptuous to affirm that she will not feel the waves, for that remains to be tried, but on calculation she should feel them little more than an ordinary Thames steamer does the waves between bridges. Is not this, then, the true solution of the Indian route? The only difficulty that will then remain will be the weight of a national subsidy thrown into the other scale. The Great Eastern will have to pay her own expenses against a rival half paid by the public; she may not be able to stand this sort of competition; and, should she be obliged to give up, simply as a non-paying speculation, the British public will have perpetrated one more characteristic folly, by helping to crush the grandest proof of its commercial adventure, its maritime experience, and its mechanical power.

Mineral Oils.—This discovery dates back only nine years, and up to 1860 not a pint of the article had been manufactured in this country. According to the Scientific American, more oils are now made from coals in a single week in this country than ever was obtained by our Whale Fisheries in their best year's fishing they ever enjoyed. Millions of dollars are invested in the manufacture in Ohio, Kentucky, and Virginia, and a great quantity is manufactured in the vicinity of New York City.

The kerosene-works near the eastern district of Brooklyn, on Long Island, is certainly a wonderful place, both on account of the original method of distilling the coals, and the vast extent of the premises. Three years ago, a few pounds of coal, according to the common method, were here distilled in the old fashioned retorts; now there have been erected several rows of retorts, each of which contains 24 tons of coal; and this amount is worked off as a regular charge at one operation. The principle of motion embraced in these retorts is totally different from all others; it is exactly the same as that of smoking a pipe of tobacco, and on this account it is called the "meerschaum." Each of these retorts is built of brick, in the form of a huge pipe-bowl, and when the coal is packed in, the fire is kindled on the top with anthracite. The draft of the heated products down through the coal is effected by steam power, and the oil vapors that are carried off below, are condensed into a crude oil, and pass from the conducting-pipe into a tank. The process is a strange one indeed; here steam is applied to a new purpose certainly—that of "smoker" on a grand scale, for the production of oil for our lamps. The operations are under perfect regulation, to prevent the cannel coal from undergoing combustion. At these works there is one of such retorts now in the course of erection, which will be able to smoke 100 tons of coal at one operation, and there is no reason that can be urged against applying the principle on a still larger scale.

By the middle of September, arrangements will be completed for making 5000 gallons of kerosene oil per day at these works, or over 1,500,000 gallons per annum; and from this single fact, the public will be able to form some idea of our great and growing manufacture."

The Cricket Match.—The Eleven of England about to visit this country, will play four matches of Cricket against the most notable clubs in America. The New York Spirit of the Times says:—

"The first of the series of matches which are to be played on the American continent, will be the All England Eleven vs. Twenty-two, at Montreal.

The second match will be the All England Eleven vs. Twenty-two, selected by the St. George's Club, and will be played at Hoboken on the new grounds, which are now being laid out by Mr. Stevens near the New York Yacht Club House.

The third match will be the All England Eleven vs. Twenty-two selected by the Philadelphia Clubs, and will be played at Philadelphia.

The concluding match will be the All England Eleven vs. Eleven, selected by the Montreal Club and Eleven selected by the St. George's Club, to take place at Montreal."

If the Upper Canadians raise the necessary funds,—some $1,250,—a fifth match will probably be played in Hamilton, the leading Club of that city having made overtures to that effect.

A Parisian Anecdote.—Aussandod, a well known Paris physician, was a man of great geniality, and fond of telling stories. The following anecdote was related by him not long since, to a circle of amused listeners:

A young gentleman of excellent family was on intimate terms with a charming woman who loved him devotedly, and was exceedingly indignant that he did not reciprocate. One day, when talking to him of her genuine and disinterested love, he listening and laughing, she all at once rose from her seat, and in towering rage, demanded what she could do to prove the truth of her assertions.

"My dear Leonie," replied the young man, "I never will believe in a woman's love, until she shall have killed herself for me."

The room in which this scene occured was on the third story. The window was open; Leonie suddenly threw herself out.

The frightened youth rushed down stairs and into the street like a madman. He expected to find the mangled body of the infatuated creature lying upon the pavement, but, to his astonishment, she had not only disappeared, but no trace of the dreadful fact was left. By a providential chance, Leonie had fallen, without a serious injury, into the carriage of a rich Englishman, passing at the moment. Struck with her beauty, he asked the bewildered fair one her commands, and before the terrified lover reached the street, she had consented to accompany her savior to England!

Expatriation.—The Baden government has recently made some important declarations in regard to the question of expatriation. They are to the effect that the government of Baden does not demand that American naturalized citizens, who have been subjects in the country, should perform any military or other service on their return, even if they have emigrated without the sanction of government. This declaration, however, is intended to apply only to those who return on a visit merely, or where business calls them to that country for temporary adjustment. A return with a view to residence, however long or short, would re-establish the relation of a subject to the Baden government. This would seem to be a satisfactory declaration on the subject.

The Disarmament of France.—The Gazette de France says that a peace footing must be understood to comprise the ability to have 500,000 men under arms at a months notice, and with a view to extension of colonial possession, a constant progress of development in the fleet, which is already the finest naval force in the world.

The Paris correspondent of the London Herald says that coals and ammunition were being stored at Cherbourg and Brest, to an extent that denotes an intention to be fully prepared against an emergency, and at Cherbourg, the forts were being armed with rifle guns.

A Kanaka, belonging to the Island of Maui, has created a little stir among the natives at Honolulu, by offering to lift a ship's anchor for a wager. A thousand pounds he considers a mere trifle. He says he has lifted an anchor weighing nearly two tons. He declined an offer to lift one of much less weight for $60. He would not gratify the curiosity of Honolulu for a less sum than $200. He is said to be a very broad-chested, compact-built man, and is probably possessed of uncommon strength, but his ability to lift two tons is a little doubtful.

Marvels of Human Caloric.—The Eclectic Review declares that we are "all living stoves—walking fire-places—furnaces in the flesh," if those terms can be applied to any apparatus for the express production of human caloric. After stating the fact of the latent heat of the human frame, the writer says—Suppose it be the month of January, when winter is presumed to be reigning in full vigor, and every inanimate object appears to have been drained of its caloric; still the human structure will exhibit a surplus of 60 degrees above the freezing point. Why is this? How does it happen that while a bronze statue fluctuates in its temperature with every passing breeze, the living organism maintains its standard heat unimpaired, and preserves its tropical climate within, though the air should be full of frost and the ground enveloped in snow? It is manifest that we must have some power of "growing" caloric for ourselves.

Assuming that our bodies are veritable stoves, the reviewer proceeds to explain whence we procure our fuel. Fortunately our coal and firewood, he adds, are stored up in a very interesting form. They are laid before us in the shape of bread and butter, puddings and pies; rashers of bacon for the laborer, and haunches of venison or turtle soup for the epicure. Instead of being brought up in scuttles, they are presented in tureens, dishes, or tumblers, or all of them in pleasant succession. In fact, whenever you send a person an invitation to dinner, you virtually request the honor of his company to take fuel; and, when you see him enthusiastically employed on your dainties, you know that he is literally shoveling coke into his corporeal stove.

All food must contain two species of elements, if it is to do its duty efficiently. There must be a portion which is available for the repair of the frame, which will remake it as fast as it is unmade, and which, therefore, has been called the plastic or body-building material. But there must also be a certain quantity of non-azotized matter which will combine with oxygen in order that it may undergo combustion. If we take milk, the "model food" of animals, as a criterion of proportion, we shall find, that three or four times as much of the latter is needed as of the former. For one pound of simply restorative provender, an energetic man requires four of digestible fuel. The ultimate form in which this fuel is burnt, is that of carbon, hydrogen, and sulphur; but proximately we swallow it in the shape of fat, starch, sugar, alcohol, and other less inflammatory compounds. By far the most incendiary of these substances is fat; ten pounds of this material imported into your stove, will do as much work—that is, will produce as much warmth—as twenty-five of starch, twenty-five of sugar, or even twenty-six of spirits.

It is pleasant to observe how ingeniously the

BANGOR DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

...ostinct of man has fastened upon the articles which will best supply him with the species of fuel he requires.

The Esquimaux, for example, is extremely partial to oily fare. He does not know why. He never heard of the doctrine of animal heat. But he feels intuitively that bear's grease and blubber are the things for him. Condemn him to live on potatoes or maize, and the poor fellow would resent the cruelty as much as a London Alderman of the old school, if sentenced to subsist on water gruel alone. And the savage would be perfectly right. Exposed as he is to the fierce cold of a northern sky, every object around him plundering him of his caloric incessantly, what he needs, is plenty of unctuous food, because from this he can generate the greatest quantity of heat. On the other hand, the native of the tropics, equally ignorant of animal chemistry, eschews the fiery diet which his climate renders inappropriate, and keeps himself cool on rice or dates, or watery fruits.

The Game of Deception.

The Augusta Age, in reply to a recent article of ours, says:

The Bangor Whig affects to know Mr. Douglas's views better than he knows them himself—and that veracious Republican sheet asserts positively that Judge D. supports the Calhoun doctrine of Constitutional Slavery.

We do charge this upon Mr. Douglas; and we have explained many times over, (but the Age doesn't see fit to understand it,) that we make the charge entirely from Mr. Douglas's own statements. He says slaves are property under the Constitution and may be constitutionally carried to the Territories as such. That is all Mr. Calhoun ever claimed. Mr. Douglas, to be sure, attempts a mean and contemptible dodge of the consequences of this admission, by saying, (as the Age quotes him):

"Now, the Senator from Alabama asks me whether the Southern people, under the constitution, have not the right to carry their slaves there? I answer, yes—the same right that you have to carry any other property. Then you you ask, have they not a right to hold it there when they get it there? I answer, the same right that you have to hold any other property, subject to such local laws as the local Legislature may constitutionally enact. Can you hold any other property without law to protect it?—No. Then, can you hold slave property without law to protect it? No, is the answer.

"Subject to such laws as the local Legislature may constitutionally enact." Can the Legislature "constitutionally enact" any law to exclude or abolish slavery, if the Constitution itself says slavery may be introduced into the Territories? Certainly not,—and Mr. Douglas knows it. Hence we call it a mean and miserable dodge—intended to deceive the people of the North into a belief that he (Douglas) holds to the doctrine that the people of a Territory may abolish slavery, when he, by his own showing, don't believe any such thing. He has never said in plain words that a Territorial Legislature may abolish or prohibit slavery. He only attempts another subterfuge, when he says by implication that slave property cannot be held in the Territories without special laws for its protection, and that the Legislatures are not bound to pass such laws. We say, and Mr. Douglas knows, that such special laws are not necessary—for if we once admit (as Mr. D. admits) that slaves are "property," under the Constitution, and can be carried as such into the Territories, then THE SLAVEHOLDER IS AMPLY PROTECTED IN HIS HUMAN PROPERTY BY THE GENERAL LAWS RELATING TO ALL "PROPERTY." He needs no special law for the preservation of his slave—any more than his neighbor needs a special law for the preservation of his horse. This Mr. Douglas must know—and hence we call his position a mean and disreputable dodge, and one that should be thoroughly exposed to the people, for by this deception he hopes to get the vote of one or two Northern States for the Presidency.

For the Whig & Courier.

Inter-state Rights.

MR. EDITOR:—In your reference, in Wednesday's issue, to the stringent and iniquitous laws of some of the Slave States—a portion of them bearing very hard upon ship-masters—you did not allude to one that "Any captain, who shall find a slave secreted in his vessel, shall immediately return him to the port from whence he was taken, under penalty of incurring all the liabilities to which he would be subjected for a voluntary abduction." Such has been the construction given to this or a similar enactment of the State of Georgia, that the bringing away of a slave, however unbeknown or unintentional on the part of the captain, is considered no excuse—and it has been held, that, by neglect on his part to examine his vessel before leaving port, for the purpose of ascertaining that no slaves were secreted on board, the captain had rendered himself subject to the penalty under the law of Georgia.

By such a provision of slave State laws, a captain must "immediately" turn back, on discovering the secretion of such slave, even if within a day's sale of his home-bound port, or the entire distance from Boston to Savannah or New Orleans, unless he can "immediately" fall in with some Southern-bound vessel to which he can intrust him for re-delivery to his master. If landed at port before making the discovery, the captain must here turn man-stealer, in the way of self-defence from the proscriptive and vindictive penalty of Southern legislation, by "immediately" seizing one who is equally free as himself on touching our New England soil. The force of infatuation and injustice, it would seem could go no further than to visit upon an innocent Northern ship-master the penalties of fine and imprisonment, or branding, and perchance death, in case he should be again found within their precinct—or subject him, ever after, to an entire interdiction from such and perhaps from any Southern port.

I am no great stickler, Mr. Editor, for the "lex talionis"—the law or doctrine of retaliation. But supposing the North, who can make out to live without the South, if enjoying the business and intercourse of the generous West, should take it into their heads, State by State, to enact that any captain, railroad agent, stage-driver, or other whipper-in, who shall find in his vessel, car, or other vehicle, a "Southern Hotspur" from beyond Mason & Dixon's line, shall "immediately" return him to the port or place "whence he was taken," under the pains and penalties of "voluntary abduction" and man-stealing—or perhaps, more properly, of introducing and setting up a nuisance amongst us—would it be any more of a violation of the Constitution and Bill of Rights, than this stringent enactment touching slave "property?"

But seriously—no Southern State, or Southern city, would dare have made such an oppressive enactment, if they had not witnessed for years the cringing subserviency of so many Northern "dough-faces." They could well take courage, in view of the crouching submission of so many Northern traffickers in politics and merchandise, whose feeble and under-tone appeal to "Southern magnanimity" and "chivalry," under the grossest insult and outrage, has been hardly more than that of their prototype of old—"Am not I thine ass, on which thou hast ridden ever since I was thine, until this day?"

We submit that it is time that the faithful Democratic organs in Maine should apply the scalpel to this wolf within the fold. When we find Republican papers applauding the course of a professedly Democratic organ we may safely distrust its soundness. Satan always recognizes his own, in politics as well as morals. The fling at the gallant Democracy of Penobscot, they accept as a compliment. Political honesty and faithfulness are always hated and scoffed at, by treachery and knavery. Before, however, they submit to the political direction and instruction of the Bath editor, they will be very likely to ask how long he has professed to be a Democrat? What are his antecedents? From what fountain did he imbibe his Democratic faith?—Who were his instructors? Whether indeed he has ever been innoculated with the spirit of Democracy."

THE NORTH ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH. The bark Wyman sailed from Boston Wednesday, to survey the route for a line of telegraphic communication between this country and Europe, by the way of Greenland, Iceland, the Faroe Islands and Scotland. The vessel is chartered by Col. T. P. Shaffner of Louisville, Ky., who has been residing in Worcester most of the time for the last two years, and who has obtained from the King of Denmark the exclusive right to lay a cable in Greenland and Iceland. He estimates the expense of laying the cable at a million and a half of dollars.

The longest cable will be from Labrador to Greenland, about 500 miles, thence to Iceland, between 300 and 600 miles, according to the points touched. From Iceland to Faroe Isles, 270 miles, Faroe to Scotland, 200 miles, Faroe to Norway, 360 miles.

The Boston Locomotive Works failed for about $600,000. They have been selling their work at the West and other parts of the country for bonds which have proved worthless.

Forney says the reason Bennett and Buchanan remain such good friends, is because they have never looked each other square in the face. As each have a squint, the reason is plausible.

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS.

EXCURSION TRAIN TO THE GREAT EASTERN. We would suggest that, while the Great Eastern remains in Portland, it might pay to run an extra train from this city to Portland, starting sufficiently early to allow some hours in Portland and a return the same evening. If the regular train could leave at 4 o'clock A. M. and return at the usual hour in would answer the purpose. It would be necessary to make arrangements for a change on the Grand Trunk from Danville to Portland, or for an extra engine—but perhaps that might be done. With some reduction of fare, a train of this kind would probably do a great business.

We understand that the Portland Steam Packet Company will put on an extra boat between that city and Boston, during the stay of the Great Eastern.

☞ We are glad to be able to announce that the Republican City Committee have prevailed upon Mr. Underwood, of Virginia, (whose presence we announced yesterday,) to remain in the city the remainder of the week, and address the Republicans at their caucus on Saturday evening. Mr. U. is a very intelligent man, and an agreeable speaker, and we doubt not his address will be worthy the audience of all our citizens

The Republicans of Lincoln Senatorial District, have nominated the following candidates for Senators:

Joseph Barron, of Topsham.

The County nominations have also been made as follows:

For County Attorney, S. S. Marble, of Waldoboro'.

For County Commissioner, Marshall Smith, of Boothbay.

It was insured for $400, at Little's Agency in this city. The loss of Mr. Knight will exceed the insurance by several hundred dollars. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

A few days previously, a barn, belonging to the estate of Isaac Sturdivant, containing from 20 to 30 tons of hay, near the shipyard, was destroyed by fire—probably the work of an incendiary.—Portland Argus.

A LARGE FINANCIAL OPERATION.—The New York correspondent of the Charleston Mercury communicates the following piece of news:—

"Senator Benjamin of Louisiana has succeeded in negotiating a loan of $1,500,000 in England for the Tehuantepec route. One of his partners in the enterprise is Major Arnold Harris, of Washington; but the American citizen who has the largest finger in the Tehuantepec pie is Senator Douglas, to whom the success of Benjamin's negotiations was a god-send. Douglas, while here, was much distressed with the prospect of his speculative manœuvres in that quarter."

A conductor on the Providence and Worcester railroad, John E. Taft, has travelled 860,000 miles and carried 1,500,000 passengers without serious injury to any of them.

SEED CORN.—Wm. L. Morgan, of Pottsville, Warren county, Indiana, says that seed from the butt end of an ear of corn will ripen its product all at the same time, and some three weeks earlier than seed from the little end of the same ear. He recommends farmers always to break their seed corn ears in two in the middle, and use the butt ends only for seed.

Scrofula or King's Evil,

IS a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin, directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them.—Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial; conferred benefits on the afflicted they never can forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

FIRE. At half past eleven o'clock last night, a fire broke out in the stable attached to the house of Mr. John Dow, on Kenduskeag Avenue, and soon communicated to the house, which was entirely destroyed, together with a portion of the furniture, a sleigh, harness, and some other property. A two story double tenement adjoining, occupied by Mr. Charles Trickey, and Mr. Wm. Goodwin, and owned by Mr. Thomas Trickey was soon in flames, which were only subdued after the house was nearly destroyed. Quite a large portion of the furniture was saved in a damaged condition. The fire could have been extinguished much sooner had it not been that water was a long distance off, requiring the aid of two engines to procure it—and before two streams could be played upon the fire, a reserved engine was called into requisition. One stream was taken from the reservoir on Division Street, and one from Kenduskeag Stream. Mr. Trickey had an insurance on his building of $...00, and Mr. Dow of $400.

THE CITY PRESS.—The New York Journal of Commerce complains that many of the papers of ... are "in the frequent if not constant ... publishing letters from their own cor... ..., containing statements destitute of ...semblance of the truth, and inserted for the ...pose of having something in the way of ...news, with which to startle the public. But the editor goes further, and says ... should avow our belief that much of this ...ndence is written at Rome, instead of ...places where it bears date, probably we ...d be very wide of the facts." It is ... that country readers should understand ... of the freaks of "metropolitan" enterprise ... the management of newspapers.

In regard to Mr. Douglas's article, the veteran editors of the National Intelligencer promise to present at length their views on the question of the power of the General Government over the Territories.

SECTIONALISM OF THE DEMOCRACY.—The Charleston Mercury, in a spirit of pride and boasting, makes the following declaration:—

"The Democratic party exists only in the South. It is no longer a National party! * * As a party, it is a Southern party, and nothing else."

The Mercury at the same time declares that the Republican party is of necessity the strongest Union party that ever existed in the country." The Mercury supports the Democratic party because the inevitable tendency of its policy is to disunion.

Some wag states that Mr. Buchanan is no longer a bachelor. He has become wedded to Miss Government.

A New York paper says that "a very great business is done in neck-ties" in the city.—Certainly not half so great as there ought to be.

John Mitchel, who wanted a plantation in the South well stocked with negros, had he tar keep out of the clutches of Great Britain, or she may settle him down upon a fine plantation she has in Australia well stocked with white people.—Louisville Journal.

A New York mercantile house held an unsettled claim of long standing against a sme duck "out West," and hearing he was becoming "well to do," sent their claim on to a Western lawyer to collect. In due time they received a reply, which effectually laid any hope they might have entertained of receiving their money. It ran in this wise:—"Gents: You will never get any spondulick out of Bill Johnson. The undersigned called upon him yesterday, and found him with nary tile; his feet upon the naked earth; and not clothes enough upon him to wad a gun."

THE STEWART STOVE
Operates to perfection with Bituminous Coal.

Combines the entire knowledge of a veteran inventor of 25 years experience.

THE STEWART STOVE
Bakes perfectly on top and in oven, and roasts in front, all at the same time.

THE STEWART STOVE

SLATE!

THE Bangor and Piscataquis Slate Company having completed their arrangements for the manufacture of SLAB SLATE, are prepared to receive orders for any dimension which may be required, from a "paper weight" to a "Billiard Table."

The endless variety of uses to which this article may be applied, will readily occur to the artisan, and indeed to every observer of the progress of modern improvement in the arts of life.

Counters for Shops, Shelves, Hearths, Tables for Printers, Black Boards for Schools, are among the many purposes for which this article will be in demand.

The peculiar texture or grain of the stone from the Brownville quarry, being entirely free from those quarts, or cross grains, which are apt to disfigure almost all other slates, renders the surface of the manufactured article smooth and true; and it is insisted, and probably will not be denied, that it is the best Slate in the known world.

Having recently filled an order for Messrs. Wheeler & Lynde, of the Whig and Courier, they have kindly permitted their Tables to be examined at their office.

The Company can also supply almost any quantity and size of Roofing Slate, and solicit orders in any of the branches of their business. Specimens at their office. Apply to O. B. ABBOT,
Lower Steamboat (Coe's) Wharf,

One-half the labor of house-cleaning may be saved by using this Soap, which cannot possibly injure the finest zinc white, and as no scrubbing is required, the saving in the wear of the paint is much greater than the cost of the soap. It leaves the surface as pure and white as when new. For sale by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

A COMPOUND REMEDY, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints —

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS PIMPLES BLOTCHES TUMORS SALT RHEUM SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS MERCURIAL DISEASE DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX DEBILITY DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS ROSE OR ST ANTHONY'S FIRE and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud Multitudes can by the aid of this remedy spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores, cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when Even when no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer for cleansing the blood Keep the blood healthy and all is well, but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown

Sarsaparilla has and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar Most of these have been frauds upon the sick for they not only contain little if any, Sarsaparilla but often no curative properties whatever Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure In order to secure their complete eradication from the system the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle

[From the Providence Advertiser]

THE foreign and domestic demand for Perry Davis & Son's great medicine—the Pain Killer—was never before so large as it has been of late, and we think the time has arrived when the declaration may be made, without the possibility of refutation, that the City of Providence, in the State of Rhode Island, of the United States of America, has furnished the entire habitual globe with a medicine, which, in point of universality of demand, extent of usefulness, complete efficiency for all the purposes for which it is designed, and widespread, enduring popularity, has never been equalled by any general patented medicine invented and issued either in Europe or America.

The universality of the demand for the Pain Killer is a novel interesting, and surprising feature in the history of this medicine It is now regularly packed sent and sold in large and steadily increasing quantities, not only to every State and Territory of the Union, and every Province of British America, but to Buenos Ayres, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Chili and other South American States, to the Sandwich Islands, to Cuba and other West India Islands; to England and Continental Europe; to Mozambique Madagascar, Zanzibar and other African lands; to Australia Singapore, Mauritius, and to Calcutta, Rangoon and other places in India; it has also been sent to China and we doubt if there is any foreign port that is frequented by American missionaries travelers or traders, into which the Pain Killer has not been introduced and been sought after by the people Very few people have any idea of the vast amount of business done by the proprietors of the Pain Killer

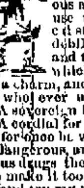

The extent of its usefulness is another, great feature of this remarkable medicine It is not only the best ever known for bruises, cuts, burns, &c but for dysentery or cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint, it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficacy and rapidity of action In the several great cities of British India, and in the West India Islands and other hot climates it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints as well as for dyspepsia, liver complaints, and other kindred disorders For coughs and colds canker asthma, and rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing trials and testimony, to be an invaluable medicine The proprietors are in possession of letters from persons of the highest character and responsibility, testifying, in unequivocal terms, to the cures effected and the satisfactory results produced in an almost endless variety of cases, by the use of this great medicine

We are fully justified in saying, that no medicine has ever gained a popularity so strong, so extensive and so enduring Other preparations in imitation of it and containing some of the ingredients compose it have, by means of extravagant advertising and deceptive statements gained a short lived patronage, but their inefficacy and worthlessness have soon become apparent and they have proved disastrous speculations to their originators and proprietors The Pain Killer alone has been found the relief to and sure cure for the complaints and casualties for which it is designed Its reputation is enduring and a fortune to its worthy proprietors, and we may add that they are, in every sense of the word worthy men and citizens. No men make a better use of their large means, and none are more truly generous and benevolent No one that we are aware of envies them their good fortune for it is believed that they have well deserved it

New England Ailments
AND THE ONLY REMEDY!!

THE Eastern States, including, in that section of the Union which is most widely known as New England contain a thrifty industrious intelligent people, who are reached by an almost endless degree of prosperity within a climate extremely trying to certain constitutions, and a soil of small fertility they have contrived by strategy to hold communities in almost everything that conduces to social comfort and happiness Unfortunately they are occupied usually so absorbed in business and mental cultivation that they neglect the precautions which are essential to bodily health Dyspepsia and physical debility are prevalent among all classes The first disease is produced by inattention to the digestive organs which are susceptible of derangement Thousands are now paying the penalty of this neglect and suffering daily the most trying pains almost without a hope of relief They have come to believe that their ailment is chronic and that they must bear it to the end It gratifies us exceedingly to announce to these afflicted individuals that they may now command a remedy of unquestionable potency and virtue which has never been found to fail in all cases of digestive weakness or derangement Hundreds of tongues are ready to grow eloquent in praise of this wonderful conqueror of dyspepsia which is known as

DR J HOSTETTER'S

Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

But that numerous class who devote themselves to literary and other sedentary pursuits and in consequence of a want of physical exercise become the victims of languor and debility without nerve or appetite have hitherto sought in vain for some invigorating life giving medicine whose effects upon the system shall be both speedy and permanent— Physicians of eminence and profoundly acquainted with the requirements of the human frame, commend Hostetter's Bitters as the safest and swiftest stimulant to the recuperative energies of the system yet discovered It restores the appetite, gives fresh vigor to the digestive organs sends the blood through the veins with a more lively current, corrects a tendency to depression of spirit, and fits a man for the transaction of business with a cheerful heart and active mind Unlike other medicines which have been devised for the same object the BITTERS do not act merely medicinally or with temporary power—the influence of the remedy is lasting If a patient will but pay some attention to diet curing proper exercise, after the relief has been afforded he need fear no return of the affliction The debility natural to the encroachments of years upon the bodily frame is also alleviated by this great strengthening medicine thus enabling the aged to pass their declining days in physical comfort whereas they are now suffering from extreme weakness and nervousness To this general class of people Hostetter's Bitters may be commended as invaluable The proprietors have invited to give attention in addition to the special attention in usual to Nursing Mothers that they will find the BITTERS the best and safest of general tonics Very few medicines are sanctioned by physicians as proper to be administered during the period of nursing, and this has obtained an universal preference

☞ Those who desire to purchase this great remedy for Dyspepsia and Debility should remember the precise title, Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters It is put up in quart bottles with the name Dr J H ostetter's Stomach Bitters, blown on the bottle and also stamped on the cap covering the cork with the autograph of Hostetter & Smith on the label These things are important on account of the numerous counterfeits now in the market

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburg, Pa and also sold by all druggists grocers and dealers generally throughout the United States Canada South America, and Germany

WESTFIELD MASS 24th Nov

S W FOWLE & CO, BOSTON — Gentlemen I fully give my testimony and more to show that the public may know the claim of this invaluable preparation of WISTAR'S BALSAM to their attention

About a year since I was attacked with a distressing cough, followed by an acute pain and other symptoms of approaching ills

I tried many remedies to no avail, and at last my case appeared, that my friends entertained fear for my recovery

At this juncture I purchased a bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM and at once began to improve; two bottles had been exhausted I was well in my health and strength

Of the firm of Loomis, Lewis & Co

[From Rev Henry Wood formerly Editor of the Congregational Journal Concord N H and now American Consul at Beyrout Syria & at the Navy]

CONCORD, N H

Messrs SETH W FOWLE & CO —Gentlemen Some years ago a sudden and violent attack of illness confined me to my bed for several weeks until I recovered, I was so much oppressed in breathing that I was often unable to sleep at night and was obliged to sit up in bed during the night This suffering was caused by the inefficacy of the remedies I had used. The disease incurable Being advised to try your WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY it afforded relief in the efficacy of it which has truly returned before me; I take pleasure in making this statement, and recommend the article to all afflicted
